Dear Rebecca,

Thank you for submitting your confirmation of application for the International Education Mark.

You are eligible for the IEM HE pathway.

Applications for the International Education Mark are now open. Applications for the International Education Mark can be submitted through QHub, which can be accessed by going to the QQI website and choosing 'Log-in' in the top right-hand corner. You are now being set up with an account on QHub, and the process can take up to 24 hours to complete. When your account is ready you can access it using the following details:

Username: P-PS04456-1.2qaqqi.onmicrosoft.com Password:

Once you log into your Qhub account, you will be able to see your International Education Mark application fee invoice under the section 'Invoicing'. You must upload evidence of payment before you can submit your application.

For further information about the International Education Mark, please visit our website.

Kind regards, International Education, QQI

This is automatically generated notification. Please do not respond.

NOTE: Providers should check their spam/junk folder for this email as they may be directed there.

If a provider already uses QHub or QQI's certification service (QBS), they will already have an account and can use these details to log into QHub. They will receive an email without log in details.

Section Two: How do I find QHub?

Providers should log into QHub using incognito mode on their browser.

Incognito mode can be accessed using Microsoft edge by clicking the three dots in the top right-hand corner and choosing 'New InPrivate window'. Providers who use Safari can go to 'File' in the top left-hand corner and choose 'New InPrivate window'.

Go to http://www.qqi.ie. Click 'Log-in'.

An alternative route to access QHub is https://www.qqi.ie/log-in

Click the drop-down arrow next to QHub.

When logging in for the first time, providers will be asked to update the password. Please keep the username and password somewhere safe.

Section Four: Multifactor Authorisation on QHub

QQI's online services are protected by Microsoft's multi factor authentication (MFA). On signing into QQI services for the first time, such as QHub, providers will be requested to set up an option for additional security. Providers can find more information about multi-factor authorisation here.

Providers will also be asked to update their password.

NOTE: Please keep a record of the new password somewhere safe, along with the username, as you will need this every time you log into QHub.

6.2 IEM application: Higher education pathway

Higher Education (HE) providers will not be required to undergo Due Diligence as part of their IEM application. Some HE providers may be required to undergo Due Diligence at a later stage.

When a HE provider logs into QHub, they will see a section to upload their IEM Application Statement, and if applicable, a section to upload proof of payment of the application fee.

9.1.1 Screening Stage

When the application phase closes, the application will move to the screening stage. The application will be screened by an ELE consultancy, who are supporting the administration process of the IEM.

Providers will receive an email from QQI stating one of two outcomes of the screening phase:

1. That the application has been screened and no gaps were identified.

Dear Rebecca ,

We are contacting you regarding your IEM application.

We would like to inform you that the screening stage of your application has been completed. Your IEM Application will proceed to the assessment stage.

Please contact international.education@ggi.ie if you have any further questions.

Kind regards,

Section Twelve: Re-application after Withdrawal

If a provider who has withdrawn wishes to reapply for the IEM, they will need to go to the Confirmation of Application form and click 're-application'.

Confirmation of Application

Please complete this Confirmation of Application form if you wish to apply for the International Education Mark (IEM) in 2024. This is the first step in your application for authorisation to use the IEM. Once applications are open, QQI will contact providers who have completed this form.

Are you applying for the first time, or re-applying?
